Spotlight On Success

2019 and Beyond
By Caroline McKinnon, Executive Director

Last year was a year of change and disruption for Street’s Hope, and in so many ways a year of loss. But in committing to the changes we needed to make, we accepted the disruption and loss. We began to build a new vision and service model that we believe is powerful, evidence based, and has community support. This new vision will enable us to bring our work to many more people who need us to see and hear them, and to do what we can to support them as they change their lives.

We understand that human trafficking touches each victim differently. Each survivor has different needs to escape their trafficking situation, to hope and believe their lives can change, and to make choices to build their dreams going forward.

This year, you will see us support exploited people in crisis, in day shelters, job training and housing programs, in new court programs, on the streets, and through our own program for foreign born human trafficking victims. You will see us support LGBTQ+ survivors and all people who have experienced labor or sex trafficking. You will see us support survivors with wrap around services that can address the multiple complex needs they have. You will see us at work in our community, in whatever ways we see that we can be here for those who need us.

You will see us engaged in building a survivor network, with help from survivors here and around the country. You will see the survivors and experts who are joining our staff and board help us clarify and refine all that we do. You will see us training community members and bringing awareness about the scope and reality of human trafficking to those who still don’t have the information about what this really looks like in 2019.

Just as we say “We see you, we hear you” to victims and survivors, we hope you will see us and hear us this year. We are here to serve, growing and changing as we believe we must, and we hope you will grow and change with us, so that together we can learn how to work to end the tragedy of human trafficking.

Volunteer Corner

With the new year beginning, we are excited to announce our next Partner Training is scheduled for February 23rd. This training is required for those interested in becoming a partner or volunteer at Street's Hope. If you would like to be added to the invite list, email the volunteer coordinator, Kaylee at volunteerinfo@streetshope.org

Partners and volunteers support staff by assisting in:

- Fundraising and donor relations
- Events (fundraisers, runs, awareness events, etc.)
- Transportation of clients to and from Case Management and Clinical Hour Sessions
- Child Care Aide at our community partner, Marisol Homes
- Spanish to English Translator at our community partner, Marisol Homes
- Collecting and organizing the items for street outreach. Staff distributes items for men and women on a weekly basis. For the complete list of needs, click here.

Contact Kaylee to learn more about these opportunities: volunteerinfo@streetshope.org
Further Your Impact

It has become clear that, together, we will serve more people with a community-based program. Together, we will reach people where they are, in ways unique to them.

And we want YOU to continue to be a part of it! Here are some easy ways to get involved:

- Join us! Make a one time donation or commit to a monthly donation. The sooner you join, the sooner we can offer more hope!
- Tell a friend about Street's Hope and encourage them to join the movement!

Thank you and we look forward to how we can better serve more people, together!
